Indigenous Veterans Day:

A Message from the Municipality of the County of Kings

On Indigenous Veterans Day, we honour Indigenous peoples – past and present – who have served and continue to serve with pride and great sacrifice for our freedom.

Throughout our shared history, Indigenous veterans were not always treated equally. Plainly, Indigenous persons have a long legacy of nobly answering the call for service abroad while simultaneously being denied equal rights and citizenship at home. Today, more than 2,500 Indigenous persons serve in Canada's Armed Forces.

The Municipality of the County of Kings acknowledges the bravery, courage and sacrifices made through the military service of First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples and their families in Canada and thanks them for their commitment to protecting freedom for all persons.
